LIFE IN SIBERIA

VERNE FREEMAN TELLS OF ARMY CONDITIONS AS HE SAW THEM AMONG BOLSHIEVSKI

Verne Freeman, who surprised his mother by arriving unannounced a few days ago, from Vladivostok, shows little trace of hardships endured in the frozen north. He is in fine health and spirits and is, of course, glad to be at home, although he does not regret his army experience. He says that fully three-fourths of the American forces in service in Siberia at the time the armistice was signed have been brought back to this country and the remaining one-fourth will be here next month.

He was in hospital service in Vladivostok where the American base hospital was located and did not participate in any offensives against the Bolsheviks. It was the understanding, he said, that the American forces were sent to guard the Trans-Siberian Railroad and not to take part in any operations against Bolsheviks. All the Allies were expected to send expeditions for the same purpose. The Canadians were the first to be withdrawn. The Italian and French forces are still there, he says, but are soon to be recalled. The rolling stock of the road, he has been informed, is owned by the Baldwin Locomotive Works and the New York Iron Works.

American forces got as far as Omsk, he has understood, which he says is about four thousand miles from Vladivostok on this Trans-Siberian Railroad. When any of the American soldiers at Omsk or intermediate points were seriously ill they were brought to the base hospital where Private Freeman was stationed, and from there were sent forward to the Letterman Hospital in San Francisco on the transports which sailed monthly out of the harbor of Vladivostok, bringing an average of forty sick soldiers.

His report of what he experienced or observed does not confirm the sensational stories which have been told by some of the men who have returned, although he says on account of the cold and the crude conditions in that undeveloped country the boys had it pretty hard at times. Much depended, he says, on the temper and character of the officers over them. Some were very harsh and exacting, others considerate. He tells of one officer who was reported to have made a bet with a Japanese officer that his men could cover a certain distance on foot before the Japanese troops could arrive by train at the same point. The Americans made the hike in five days and their officer won his bet. He also says there was a good deal of malingering among

ALLEN REUNION

RELATIVES OF MRS. ADDIE ALLEN ENJOY HOUSE PARTY AT HOME OF DR. HOGUE

The reunion of members of the Allen family and their house party which began October 15th at the hospitable home of Dr. R. V. Hogue, of this city, and which will last until the first of November, has brought the greatest pleasure to all who have participated. The first night was given to a family reunion dance at the Hogue residence at which Mrs. Addie Allen, mother of Mrs. Hogue, was guest of honor. The company numbered seventeen and was made up of the sons, daughters, sons-in-law, daughters-in-law and grandchildren of the honoree, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Allen and family from Prescott, Ariz., Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Hogue and son of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Tuck of New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Linkogel of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Allen of Denver, Colorado. This group represented ninety-two relatives, three generations, seven families, and six states.

The total ninety-two was reached by the addition of relationships in this fashion: 1 grandfather, 2 grandmothers, 6 mothers, 4 fathers, 9 sisters, 4 brothers, 5 sons, 10 daughters, 2 nephews, 5 nieces, 7 cousins, 5 uncles, 7 aunts, 3 sons-in-law, 3 daughters-in-law, 2 grandsons, 5 grand-daughters, 5 brothers-in-law and 7 sisters-in-law. Since the dance the party has put in the days motoring, and in deep-sea fishing with chicken dinners and fish fries and before they separate will motor to San Diego.

Mrs. Allen is very proud to have her family together and arrangements are being made to repeat the reunion next year. Mr. and Mrs. Tuck, who are well acquainted with Glendale, are seriously considering the possibility of locating here permanently.

COURAGEOUS WOMEN

MISS HUBER AND MRS. GRAEME MOTOR ACROSS CONTINENT, RETURN WITHOUT MISHAP

More transcontinental travelers have returned, with good accounts of their travels. Miss Lena Huber and Mrs. E. Graeme, two young women who had completed nurses' training courses at the Glendale Sanitarium, the middle of last April purchased a car from Max Green, of the Oakland Agency, and courageously set forth on a trans-continental tour. There was little of interest along the way that they did not take in. They first drove to San Diego where they camped for three days then struck east for Arizona, stopping at Palm Springs for a day or so. Their first real adventure came when they got stalled amidstream while fording the San Carlos River in Arizona. There was no bridge and no other way to cross, but the water was high enough to flood the carburetor and stop the works. After sitting there helpless for about half an hour they were able to attract attention and to hire an Indian to pull them out at an expense of about $7.00. They drove into New Mexico where the roads were very muddy and went over the mountains into Colorado. There they encountered rain every day and had a little accident when the car slipped and broke a spring. The roads in Colorado were quite an improvement over those they had been traversing and they enjoyed the trip through that picturesque state. From there they drove through Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Ohio to their objective, Michigan, where they spent five months in Saginaw, making side trips to Pontiac, where they visited the Oakland factory, and to Detroit.

By the 21st of September they were ready to start for home. A friend of Mrs. Graeme had planned to accompany them but the possible difficulties of the trip gave him cold feet and at Muscatine, Iowa, he decided to leave them. His desertion in no way impaired their own courage and they came on with colors flying. In Iowa they were bothered by mud and their advice to other trans-continental travelers is to avoid that state at this season. At one place they had to pull a Ford, containing two people, out of a ditch before they could get by themselves, and a little further on they got stuck in a mud puddle themselves and had to get out and scoop the mud and water from the hole with their hands before the wheel could be extricated.

They were in Omaha when the race riots were on, saw the burnt court house, the negro that was shot and the effigy of the mayor that was hung. Two days were spent at Colorado Springs where they took in the Garden of the Gods and other sights and then motored on to see the remains of cliff dwellings in Arizona. While in that state they enjoyed a hunting trip with friends and during the outing killed a rattlesnake carrying around sixteen rattles. They had the skin tanned and have brought it home as a souvenir of their trip. They have also brought a wonderful collection of pictures which they snapped with their own cameras along the way. They say the tour cost but little more than a railroad journey would have done and was far more interesting and instructive. The only car trouble they had was the broken spring already mentioned.

Glendale was reached Saturday night and they are now at Hotel Gray temporarily, but are looking for permanent quarters.

DEATH OF MRS. M. B. HARTMANN

Mrs. A. Violet Hartmann, wife of Maurice B. Hartmann, died at their residence in this city at 744 East Wilson avenue Wednesday night, October 29, 1919, at 8:30 o'clock. The rupture of a blood vessel in the brain which occurred at 9:30 on the morning of the same day, was the cause of death. She never regained consciousness after the seizure.

Deceased was born in England March 2, 1846. She had lived in this country since 1882 and had been a resident of Glendale for eight years. Had she lived until March, 1920, she and her husband would have celebrated their forty-first wedding anniversary. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. E. R. Scott, of St. Paul, Minn., and three grand-children. Mrs. Scott has been telegraphed for and is probably on the way now to join her father. Funeral services will probably be held on Monday and will be announced in subsequent issues. Mrs. Hartmann was a woman of gentle, retiring disposition, but philanthropic inclinations and was a devoted worker in Red Cross activities. She will be missed in the circles which knew her best.

COLORADO TROOPS MOBILIZING

GOVERNOR SHOUP CALLS OUT NATIONAL GUARD FOR DUTY IN COAL STRIKE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

DENVER, October 30.—Governor Shoup of Colorado today ordered the mobilization of the Colorado National Guard for duty in the coal strike. Mobilization started this morning.

PASSING OF WELL-KNOWN POET

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX DIES AT SHORT BEACH, CONN. AT AGE OF SIXTY-FOUR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SHORT BEACH, Conn., October 30.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox, noted author and poet died at her home here this morning, aged 64 years. She had never recovered from the nervous collapse she suffered recently while in England.

TO DEMAND PROTOCOL OF GERMANY

SUPREME WAR COUNCIL WILL REQUIRE THAT SUCH AN INSTRUMENT BE ADDED TO ORIGINAL TREATY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, October 30.—The Supreme War Council today decided to force Germany to sign a protocol to the peace treaty guaranteeing that she will carry out the terms of the armistice. The protocol will be attached to the original treaty as soon as it can be executed. The Council also asked the inter-allied naval experts to prepare a plan by which Germany will reimburse the allies for the sinking of the interned German fleet in Scapa Flow. The final reply to the counter proposals which Bulgaria tendered on the Bulgarian peace treaty will be presented on Saturday.

BURNING MINE CAVES IN

ALL HOPE OF SAVING TWENTY-TWO MINERS IMPRISONED IS ABANDONED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

AMSTERDAM, Ohio.—All hope of saving the miners imprisoned since yesterday in the Ohio Coal Company's mine here was abandoned today when the mine caved in at the spot where it was believed the imprisoned men had gathered. Mine owners said they believed there were twenty-two men imprisoned in the mine.

INTERNATIONAL LABOR CONFERENCE

FRICTION DEVELOPING OVER SEATING OF AUSTRIAN AND GERMAN DELEGATES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 30.—The second day's session of the International Labor conference being held under the League of Nations, will not convene until late this afternoon. It is understood that a fight is developing on the seating of the Austrian and German delegates.

STILL DETERMINED TO STRIKE

TELEGRAM FROM UNITED MINE WORKERS SO ADVISES SECRETARY OF LABOR WILSON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., October 30.—Acting President Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America, telegraphed Secretary of Labor Wilson today saying, "the determination to strike is not altered." Lewis was replying to a telegram from Wilson received yesterday. Further than that Wilson had made "certain suggestions" with regard to miners and mine operators getting together to end the strike, the contents of Wilson's telegram was not revealed.

RAILROAD WRECK AT ACTON

FIVE DEAD, SEVENTY INJURED—BOARD ON INQUIRY CONVENED ON SCENE THIS MORNING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, October 30.—The complete casualty list in yesterday's wreck of the Southern Pacific San Joaquin valley flyer at Acton in Los Angeles county today showed five dead including one unidentified and seventy injured. The baggageman and express messenger previously reported missing, have been found among the injured. All of the injured are in hospitals or their homes here. The death list was reduced from six this morning when brakeman Phels of Santa Monica was found among the severely injured. Two of the injured may die.

A board of inquiry convened at the scene of the wreck this morning. It is composed of railway officials, private citizens and representatives of the State Railway Commission.

AVIATOR HAWKINS

WILL RETURN TO GLENDALE IN ABOUT TWO WEEKS AFTER STUNTS AT FAIRS

Mrs. Joe Hawkins, of 420 East Harvard street, whose aviator son, Walter Hawkins, participated in the flying stunts at the Bakersfield Fair, when he raced with a motorcycle, says that when he undertook to fly over the Tehachapi at an altitude of 8000 feet, he was turned back by the wind and had to land in the Mojave. He has since been flying at Porterville, Tulare, Delano and at Exeter where he now is. She is expecting him home in about two weeks. He is now in the employ of the Mercury Aviation Company, of which Cecil De Mille is the head, but has just had an excellent offer from Cliff Durant, the Chevrolet racer and head of the selling department who wants to learn to fly. Whether he will consider it or not Mrs. Hawkins does not know. She reports that her son, Norman Hawkins, who was injured in a motorcycle accident about a month ago, has completely recovered and is now continuing his studies at the Y. M. C. A. All the accidents that have occurred in the family have been motorcycle accidents, she says, while there have never been any mishaps in all the aeroplane trips they have taken. In consequence she has grown to have a very poor opinion of motorcycles and is advising her son to sell that means of locomotion, but to hang onto the airplane.

DEATH OF LESTER ROBINSON

Friends of Lester Robinson, who resided in Glendale until about three years ago, were shocked to read the announcement of his death in Los Angeles papers and those who attended the funeral services at Ocean Park Saturday learned that he had suddenly expired while saying a cheery word to a friend who greeted him. He had not been ill at all and had been busy during the summer with workmen remodeling property he owned at Venice and had just completed the furnishing of a cottage. He was a man about seventy years of age with no living relatives save a nephew. His fine character endeared him to all who knew him and made him universally respected wherever he went.

MRS. JACKSON RETURNS

Mrs. R. M. Jackson of 344 North Maryland avenue returned Wednesday from a visit to the east to attend the convention of the Disciples of Christ at Cincinnati, Ohio, which was in session for ten days and which she says was wonderful in many ways. She also visited her old Kentucky home and relatives in Louisville and went to the College of Missions in Indianapolis. The same differences that have always been observed between the east and the west are apparent now, but she did not remark any special changes in conditions. She had a very beautiful trip, especially on the return journey and met many pleasant, congenial people.

CRAZY TO COME

MISS CLARA HUTTON SAYS EASTERNERS ARE ALL TALKING ABOUT CALIFORNIA

Miss Clara Hutton of 326 East Colorado street returned Wednesday from a delightful visit with old friends in Chicago and at Indianapolis, Union and Warsaw, Indiana. She was absent just two months. It was her first visit there in four years and she observed some changes due to the war. For instance, living expenses are very high, considerably in excess of quotations here, and some things, for example sugar, it is almost impossible to get. There is great business activity, much building in progress and the majority of people appear prosperous, but everywhere she went people were talking about California and were "crazy" to come here. A canvass was taken of the people on the Pullman on which she returned and it showed there was not a single person on the car who was not coming to California either for the winter or to stay permanently. "Of course," said Miss Hutton, "I boosted for Glendale. It seems very good to get back. The moment we crossed the state line it seemed different. Up to that time we had seen snow and ice all along the way, and it was cold and uncomfortable when I left the east."

WEATHER FORECAST.—Fair tonight and Friday. Light to heavy frost in the interior.

TRADE CONDITIONS

MR. AND MRS. BOSSERMAN COMPARE EASTERN BUSINESS WITH THAT OF CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bosserman, who have returned to Glendale within the past week, say they never had pleasanter journeys than going and returning to Indiana and that their five weeks' sojourn at Sheridan Beach, Michigan City was even pleasanter than their anticipations had pictured it. They spent a few days in Chicago, a week in Nebraska and then came home by the northern route taking in Tacoma, Seattle, Portland and San Francisco.

Mrs. Bosserman declares that business conditions so far as activity and prices are concerned are everywhere about the same as in California especially in the matter of food and clothing. She found but little variation in the price of butter, eggs, meat or vegetables except in Chicago, where, she says, prices are higher than at any other business center in the United States. Wages are very high and prices inflated accordingly. The manager of Marshal Field's Dry Goods establishment told her it was probably the highest priced store in the world. Labor is spending its wages freely and there appears to be great prosperity. Articles of clothing that she priced there she declares can be bought here for 50 per cent less.

GOOD SOCCER BALL

An interesting game of soccer ball was played Wednesday afternoon on the Cerritos School field between the team of that school and Colorado Street School. The team last named was at some disadvantage because the boys are smaller than in the other organization, but they made an excellent showing, especially in protective work. The final score was four to nothing in favor of Cerritos, all of which was made in the middle half of the game, no scores being made on either side in the first and last quarters. Goals for Cerritos were kicked by Edward Hardin and Louis Moniot and there was also a freak goal made when a ball kicked by Charles Boring bounced on the goal keeper's head and went on through. William Morgan of the Intermediate refereed the game in a highly satisfactory manner.

Boys interested in the formation of a Scout troop at Central Avenue School are to gather Friday night at the school to meet their prospective Scout Master, Mr. Kellogg. Ernest Harwood, Acting Scout Executive, will also be there.

MRS. W. H. PEART BEREAVED

Mrs. W. H. Peart, of 340 West Broadway, was advised by a telegram which reached her Sunday morning that her father, A. E. Stowe, had undergone an operation for appendicitis. Tuesday she received a message that he could not live and to come at once with her sister, Miss Stowe, who has been her house guest. The two women and Baby Peart left Glendale with the least possible delay for Belvidere, Illinois, the home of the Stowe family. Shortly after that a telegram was received here announcing the death of Mr. Stowe, who had been apparently in perfect health previous to this illness. Mrs. Peart's uncle, Will Cleveland, had but just arrived and is still here.

WIDENING CIRCLES

BIG ATTENDANCE AT MEETING AT HOME OF MRS. TOLL AND GOOD REPORTS

The meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle held at the home of Mrs. Charles Toll Wednesday was very largely attended not only by Glendale members but by visitors from outside. Mrs. Cave of Alhambra told of the newly-formed reading circle in that city which Mrs. Toll, Mrs. Burr and Mrs. Kanouse helped to organize. It now has an enrollment of twenty-six, she says. Visitors were also present from South Pasadena where a circle is to be formed, and Mrs. McMorris of Vancouver announced that she will organize one there when she returns. Mrs. Hartley Shaw was organizing a circle in South Glendale at the time the meeting was in progress, and at noon greetings were sent to it from the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle. The Circle will finish the book "For Girls and Mothers of Girls" at its next meeting.

The work of compiling a little book which will contain all the quotations the mothers have given during the past two years, is now in progress and nearly completed. It is in charge of Mrs. Reed Heustis and when printed will be used for Christmas gifts by members of the Circle.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1919

WATCH FOR SLACK-FILLED CANS

Federal food inspectors have been instructed to watch for interstate shipments of canned foods which have been slack-filled; that is, which contain too much water and too little solid food. Officials of the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, who are charged with the enforcement of the Federal Food and Drugs Act, say that action under the law will be taken against violators.

The practice of slack-filling food cans, in the opinion of the officials, is demoralizing to the trade and unfair to the consumer. To put a full can in competition with a slack-filled can places the honest canner at a disadvantage. The consumer almost invariably receives more for his money when buying a full can than when buying a slack-filled can even though he pays a higher price for the full can. In some instances, however, when the canner sells his slack-filled cans to the trade at prices lower than the market price for a full can, the consumer is charged as much for the slack-filled can as for the full can. In such cases both the canner and the dealer share in unfair profits at the expense of the consumer.

Putting excess liquid in cans adds unnecessary expense in canning, storing and shipping, since the excess liquid requires more cans and increases freight and storage charges all along the line—through the hands of the canner, broker, the wholesale and the retail grocer. Since this additional and useless expense is borne invariably by the consumer, it adds its part to the high cost of living.

The Bureau of Chemistry has conducted investigations to determine the exact amount of solid food of various fruits and vegetables that can be placed most economically and efficiently in the standard-sized cans in order that the fill of can may be standardized. Standardization of canned goods, with reference to both quality and quantity, tends to stabilize values. The results of these investigations have been distributed widely among canners. Federal inspectors have visited as many canneries as practicable during the canning season to supplement the written reports with personal instructions.

It is the intention, say the officials, to invoke the full power of the Food and Drugs Act to stop the shipment into interstate and foreign commerce of slack-filled cans. The Federal Food and Drugs Act, however, does not apply to canned foods consumed within the State where canned. Such canned goods are controlled entirely by State laws. The food officials are of the opinion that there is no excuse whatever for any canners to continue the uneconomical and unfair practice of slack-filling cans.

HIGH SCHOOL PRINTING COURSE

Publishers everywhere advocate the establishment of printing courses in the high-schools of the smaller cities. They believe that the supply of raw material for printers is nearing the diminishing point, and that some effort must be made to encourage boys to enter the trade.

DR. STEELMAN'S RIVALS

Dr. C. Stuart Steelman has run up against a new difficulty in connection with his stereoscopic camera. He has just been advised by the Commissioner of Patents at Washington of three camera inventions, two by Frenchmen and one by an Englishman, which were patented in this country previous to the receipt of the doctor's application. One of the French patents was granted last May. Some portions of the doctor's camera trespass on these patents, but none of the foreign inventors have covered the main feature of the Steelman camera which makes it stereoscopic. They have not blended the two images as he has done, following the optic principles demonstrated in the human eye. The doctor is generously enthusiastic over the work of his rivals, one of whom is a celebrated French optician and instrument maker who patented several war inventions in the way of gun sights. One of these camera patents was granted as far back as 1860. The fact that the last one reached the patent office in May he considers another proof of the telepathy existing between inventive minds that often travel the same path and arrive at almost identical conclusions at the same time, having no connection with nor knowledge of each other. The doctor thinks a few changes can be made in his camera which will do away with any trespass on the features patented in the other cameras, and he is already at work on the problem.

JEWISH SISTERHOOD

The Jewish Sisterhood of Glendale had their first meeting of the season at the home of the president, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, at 123 West Maple St., Wednesday afternoon. Current events were given by Miss Eva Daniels and Mrs. Myron Barnett. Mrs. Kinney read a paper on religious tolerance. A social hour was enjoyed while delicious refreshments were served. Those present were: Mesdames Joseph Melzer, G. Phillips, Albert Leighton, B. Phillips, Saul Frank, Myron Barnett, C. L. Vierick, C. E. Auerbach, S. Brennan, Miss Eva Daniels and the hostess, Mrs. E. W. Kinney.

Rev. Clyde M. Crist, the new pastor of the First Methodist Church of this city, goes to Pasadena today to officiate at the funeral of a former parishioner.

The office of Burton & Chandler reports that C. L. Chandler went to San Diego Wednesday to close a deal for the sale of 900 acres of land, in Verdugo Valley.

Mrs. Hattie Gaylord returned Wednesday from a two months' trip in which she visited friends and relatives in Northern California, Colorado, Kansas and Chicago. Her friends made her visit most enjoyable for her but nevertheless she was delighted to get back to "the best place on earth" once more.

Leone Rockhold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rockhold, of 339 West Burchett street, will be hostess at a little Halloween party at which six of her little friends will be entertained at twilight Friday evening.
They will be appropriately costumed, will play Halloween games and enjoy Halloween refreshments.

Manager Fred Deal of the local telephone exchange had the pleasure of entertaining Wednesday afternoon, G. E. McFarland, of San Francisco, president of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company. It was his first inspection of the new building here and he was greatly pleased with it.

HALLOWE'EN LUNCHEON

Mrs. John Robert White entertained informally with a mid-day luncheon Wednesday at which covers were laid for ten. Chrysanthemums and zinnias centered the table and Halloween nut bowls and favors suggested All Saints Day. No program nor work of any kind was provided for the afternoon following the luncheon, which was spent in friendly discussion and visiting. Guests were Mesdames E. D. Yard, Freeman Kelley, W. W. Ramsay, William F.
Nash, Harry Duffield, Helen Campbell, E. H. Willisford, C. E. Norton and Andrew P. Findlay.

SUPPER AND HALLOWE'EN FROLIC

An unusually large company graded the board at the Wednesday night church supper at the Central Christian Church, covers being laid for one hundred. The bungalow where the tables were spread was prettily decorated with illuminated pumpkins, black cats in silhouette, and other symbols of Halloween. The usual prayer service followed in the church auditorium and then a special program of music, furnished by the orchestra of the First Methodist Church led by Miss Dorothy Lee, and readings by Mrs. Calvin Whiting were enjoyed. At its conclusion an adjournment was taken to the bungalow for a Halloween frolic. An egg race, a bean race, and a peanut race were among the exciting events of the evening, and much enjoyment was had in the "art gallery." Those who have attended previous parties of the sort declared this was the jolliest one the young people of the church have ever enjoyed. It was in charge of Mrs. R. P. Jodon.

NEW READING CIRCLE

A branch reading circle along the lines of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle was organized Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Hartley Shaw on West Park avenue. Members came in the forenoon bringing their lunches and remained until the early afternoon. The reading of "A Study of Child Nature" by Elizabeth Harrison was begun and interesting discussion followed in which the mothers related personal experiences. This new circle promises to be quite a boon to mothers in the southern part of the city who are not able to attend the older organization.

G. A. R. INCREASING MEMBERSHIP

An incident at the same time amusing and pathetic occurred at the National G. A. R. encampment at Columbus, O., when the reports from the various departments showed that membership in all branches of the G.
A. R. had increased during the year.
The steady depletion in the ranks of these grand old men has brought tears to the eyes of every onlooker at their parades and gatherings in recent years. It seems odd now that additional membership should be reported. But is this not the explanation? Many veterans of the Civil War never joined the Grand Army.
But these last two or three years have stirred patriotism anew in every old as well as every young breast.
Undoubtedly many a man who, for some personal reason, had never added his name to the roster, suddenly decided to make himself known as one who also served and loved his country, and so applied for membership at the nearest post. A sort of public confession of faith, one might say.

At the best, these old men are passing fast. It is a pleasure to know that there are more of them still living than had been supposed.

the men who were homesick and who feigned sickness and insanity in the hope of being sent home. Others were really more or less broken down by hard conditions and developed tuberculosis. He says, too, that some of the men got to drinking vodka, which is pure alcohol, and could not stand up under the effects of the poison.

Siberia is an interesting country up to a certain point, he says, but its interest soon palls and the general impression that it is all a great plain does not everywhere hold good. In the neighborhood of Vladivostok it is hilly.

The Russian peasants he characterizes as ignorant, lazy men whose ambition it is to live without work.
They, therefore, fall an easy prey to the Bolshevistic doctrines in which all classes in that part of Siberia seem to have united. "We could not understand how it was," he declares, "that the people could live as they did without work and still have plenty of money."

Mr. Freeman is taking this week off visiting with his mother and sister and with his old friends. Next week he expects to return to work in the automobile repair shop of Mr.
Johnson of Hollywood, where he was employed before he entered the army.

VICTROLA TAG SALE

Tag sales to raise a fund for the purchase of a victrola for the Cerritos Avenue School netted $60.
Eleven dollars had been realized previously from candy sales and today popcorn raised in the school gardens and popped by the cooking classes is being sold for the same fund, a pretty bit of co-operation between school departments. The aim is to raise $125 for a machine and stock of records. As already stated, this will be the third machine bought for the school, the two others having been stolen. Special precautions will be taken for the protection of this one.

FEEDING THE UNDERNOUR- ISHED CHILD

Children require a foundation of good health, made by adequate nourishment, but many of them in this country are not laying this foundation. The United States Department of Agriculture is assisting the various agencies working to correct this condition. Undernourishment is not confined to the slums. Many a little Tony or Pietro, with his bowl of thick soup and hunk of dry bread, topped off with an apple or an orange, is better fed than numbers of children in well-to-do families. The latter are too often allowed to choose what they will or will not eat, and to select food badly suited to a child's stomach or that is lacking in nourishment. When this happens they are being starved just as much as if their parents, because of poverty, were obliged to give them too scanty a ration. Soggy breads, fried meats, fried potatoes, and heavy pie are responsible for many underfed children.

Milk is absolutely necessary to keep the growing child in health. It contains growth-producing substances not found in any other food.
The Dairy Division of the Department of Agriculture is endeavoring to drive this lesson home to the people in every state by means of charts, lectures and exhibits. The home demonstration agents, supervised by the Department of Agriculture and state colleges, are also teaching the value of milk in a child's diet and how to select a proper meal for a growing boy or girl. Children who have been given even one pint of milk every school day for two months have made remarkable gains in every instance.

A Hemet poultry raiser captured a coyote and tied a bell around its neck, to stop it from stealing his chickens. But the only difference it made was that the coyote now wakes him when it steals his chickens, whereas before he slept through it.

BY AUTO AND RAIL

MR. AND MRS. LOUIS SIPPLE RE-TURN FROM A TOUR OF
NEW YORK STATE

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sipple, who left for the east about the middle of last July, got back Tuesday and are now at home at 1241 East Harvard street. They started in their trusty automobile and had seven days of hard travel in it, first in the Mojave desert where the mercury registered 118 inside the car, then after they left the California line and got into Arizona they ran into rain, not for one day but many. It rained constantly for ten days. After three days of ploughing through the mud they decided to store their car at Flagstaff, Ariz., and go on by train. Over the steel rails they went east as far as New York where they purchased another car in which they toured the state, visiting their many relatives.
When they were ready to turn their faces toward home they sold the new car and returned by rail to Flagstaff, where they again took possession of their automobile. But the weather man was clearly against them. The very night of their arrival rain began falling and they traveled through mud to the California state line where they struck good roads. On the return trip, however, they had the advantage of cool weather. They also felt great satisfaction in the fact that through all the heavy travel their car behaved nobly, never getting stuck nor breaking down. Mr.
Sipple says he is going to decorate it with a red ribbon and exhibit it.

SANITARIUM NOTES

Ex-Senator John T. Hughes, of Tucson, Arizona, has been a patient at the Sanitarium for several weeks.
He has almost wholly recovered his health and expects soon to return to his work as an attorney at Tucson.

The widely-advertised manufacturer of "Kellogg's Corn Flakes" made us a brief call on his way to the Orient, whither he is going by the Canadian Pacific line from Vancouver. W. K. Kellogg is a name quite as familiar as that of another famous food manufacturer of Battle Creek.

Dr. P. M. Keller and his wife, Dr.
F. Keller, of New Zealand, are at the Sanitarium for a brief stay, after many years of service in the land of the Southern Cross. They expect to remain in this country hereafter.
The place of their future labors is as yet uncertain.

The Sanitarium has scarcely an empty room and has a fine class of patients. The work of the institution is unusually prosperous at this time.

We are all interested in the plan to remove the church from the corner of Wilson and Isabel streets to a point north on Isabel and enlarge and improve it so that it will comfortably house our large congregation. The plans are just about complete and the work will soon begin.
H. J. Eggers, formerly a resident of Glendale but for some time a ranch owner of Beaumont, who is a builder and contractor, will have charge of the work.

Melvin Munson, eldest son of Chaplain R. W. Munson, and his little son, arrived a day or two ago from Sebastopol to visit his family here. He arrived on this coast early last month after several years spent in the East Indies in missionary work. He was bereaved of his wife and had a sad journey home with his two motherless boys of five and twenty months respectively.

"HALLOWE'EN"

One dark night as I was napping
O'er my books, there came a tapping
At my door.
I wondered who it might be coming.
A tramp, perhaps, or burglar roaming
The country o'er.

Cautiously I turned the night key Fearing something that I might see
At the door;
When lo! a "scareful" apparition—
Rousing my childish superstition
As of yore.
There were ghosts before me kneeling—
Winding sheets their forms concealing
Half a score;
Stalk, and still, no word was spoken,
Of their mission gave no token
No sign they bore.
"Tell me," I cried, "Oh, why this visit?
Is this foretelling sorrow—is it
I implore?
Or some disaster now unseen?
Then they shouted 'Hallowe'en'
And nothing more."

When the pots of discord bubble—
When the heart's borne down with trouble
Come little ghosts once more,
And your pumpkin lanterns swinging—
Your hearts with joy and gladness ringing
As of yore.
H. E. LOVELESS.

TUJUNGA

Much interest has been aroused in the proposed spelling contest for the championship of the schools in Monte Vista Valley. It is proposed to have the three best spellers in each of the schools at Sunland, Tujunga, La Crescenta and La Canada selected by the respective teachers, and then have the twelve meet at some place, selected by the teachers, in a public contest, open to all the people. The pupil "spelling down" the other eleven, to be given a suitable prize. All the schools and teachers, except those at La Crescenta, have agreed to go into the contest, and it is hoped that they will do so before the date and place are finally fixed; if not the race will be before the other three schools. It is expected that neutral judges and one to give out the words will be invited from Glendale or Pasadena, or both, and that it will result in the promotion of the art of spelling among the young people of the valley.

Miss Emma Kraft, who exhibited her fine Nubian goats at the fair in Los Angeles last week, was very fortunate in securing "First" and "Championship" prizes on her famous doe "Dryad." First on young buck "Najinsky," and second and third on doe kids. She also sold her young buck "Najinsky." He will not be shipped before ten days or two weeks however, and is still available.

Miss Jessie Russell has begun the rebuilding of the house on the land purchased by her on Sunset boulevard. W. H. Wieman has charge of it. F. Bajdzinski (pronounce it if you can), has pitched his tent on the lot purchased by him on Hillcrest Drive, and is busily engaged in clearing it and otherwise preparing to build his house.

Dr. Wilkinson, of Michigan Highway, who has been ill for some time, was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium Saturday for treatment. The Doctor's many friends hope that he may be restored to his former health and activity in a short time.

The aged mother of Mrs. C. C. Niemeyer, whose fall we noticed in the last issue, was removed to the County Hospital for treatment on Tuesday.

Miss Mary Lewis and Miss Atkinson have both been on the sick list for the past week, but are better at present.

A Hallowe'en party will be given at the club house on Friday evening for the children of the Glorieta Heights school. The teachers with the help of Don Wieman will furnish the entertainment.

Miss Flora Rodheaver was a caller on Tuesday. Miss Rodheaver may return to Tujunga in the near future.

H. J. Free brought in an orange quince for the window exhibit that weighed a pound and a half.

Mrs. C. C. Niemeyer was in Anaheim for a day or two, visiting with relatives.

D. C. Dean was in Long Beach and Montebello on Thursday on business.

The sale of lots in this vicinity still continues with unabated zeal, and a man wonders each morning when he awakes who his next door neighbor is going to be tomorrow. Well, let the work go on for it not only means a larger community, but also more children for the school, as well as a greater developed water system.

PREPARATIONS FOR COAL STRIKE

DIRECTOR GENERAL HINES ISSUES PRIORITY LIST FOR COAL DELIVERIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 30.—Director General Hines issued orders today establishing a priority list for coal deliveries and giving the Railway Administration authority over all coal now in transit as a part of the government's program to meet the coal strike.

Coal deliveries are to be made in the following order of preference: Railroads and steamship lines; residences, hospitals and hotels; army and navy; public utilities; food producers; governmental emergency requirements; emergency marine requirements; paper manufacturers and daily newspaper plants; and then in the order of priority named on the priority list in effect during the war.

The cabinet held a special session this morning, Dr. Garfield, former fuel administrator, attending. Following the meeting Attorney General Palmer issued a statement saying the President will be asked to restore the maximum price list and "the fuel administrator will take such action as may be necessary to protect consumers both as to price and distribution of fuel."

HOW PROHIBITION IS WORKING IN CANADA

One of the great facts about prohibition, a fact to which the liquor interests, everywhere, are fully awake, is the extraordinary rapidity with which it establishes its own value. All righteous enactments do this, of course, ultimately, but, with prohibition, the good effects begin to be outwardly and visibly evident almost from the moment the sale of liquor ceases. Indeed, the most apparent good comes first. The banishment of drunkenness from the streets, and the disappearance of the crowds round the saloon doors are benefits which become evident within twenty-four hours. Thence onward, the improvement is not so apparent, but is none the less rapid and continuous. There is no question here of money saved from drink being "spent on other vices." No one who knew anything about the drink problem, ever, for a moment, believed that it would be, for drink itself is the father of most of these "other vices," and, that being cut off, the rest go with it. The money saved is spent on a thousand things greatly needed, but previously forgone in order to provide money for drink, or else it is laid aside.

There is, of course, a certain sameness about the results obtained from prohibition everywhere. One household, one city, one state has very much the same story to tell as all the others; better clothed and better fed children, more efficient workmen, less crime, and a higher standard of living generally. There is however, a certain peculiar impressiveness, in spite of its uniformity, in the report recently issued as to the working of prohibition in the Province of Ontario. Questionnaires were sent out to the officials of the principal cities and towns in the Province asking for opinions as to what effect prohibition had had during the time that it had been in force. In all sixty-nine answers were received, and of these fifty-nine were favorable, nine were non-committal, and one was unfavorable.

It is a wonderful story that is unfolded in these fifty-nine replies. "Strong opponents are now enthusiastic supporters." "Drunkenness is practically obsolete." "Police court is a thing of the past." "Business is improved. Homes are happy. Social conditions are better. Savings bank accounts started by families previously in want." "Moderate drinking and drinking by young men is practically wiped out. The results, physical and financial, are incalculable." "No public man who has the interests of the community at heart will ever wish or suggest returning to a wet Province."

And so the story goes on, emphasizing at every turn, not only the good results of prohibition, but the utter failure, as far as fulfillment is concerned, of all the dire prophecies with which the project was for so long surrounded. It is true that the liquor interests stand ready to credit prohibition with every untoward incident or development in public life, but such excursions into the realm of pure fancy are rapidly losing all power to deceive. For prohibition very quickly makes friends for itself. Not the least notable feature about the report already referred to is the number of times that it tells of "strong opponents" being converted into "enthusiastic supporters."

Speaking in Ottawa, recently, on the effect of prohibition throughout the Dominion, the Hon. G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, summed up the position perhaps as well as it could be summed up when he said that prohibition had, in his opinion, greatly increased the efficiency of the Canadian workman, and had brought "untold happiness and comfort to their wives and children."—C. S. Monitor.

GRANITE-BLOCK MAINTENANCE LAW

Study of various paving materials suitable for much-traveled highways has disclosed interesting data on granite blocks to the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. Many road builders are coming to regard this material as particularly suitable for trunk lines entering large towns and cities where there is an increasing amount of heavy truck traffic.

Though the initial cost of granite block construction is high, the maintenance of the pavement, if properly laid and grouted, is less than that of almost any other type of pavement. In Worcester, Mass., over a period of 10 years the average maintenance cost per yard was less than a half cent. This also is true in other cities regardless of the fact that in general the streets covered with granite block paving are those carrying the most severe traffic.

AIRPLANE IN CROP REPORTING

The first use of the airplane in crop reporting was made April 30, 1919, by Col. J. L. Cochran, Ohio field agent for the Bureau of Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture, who made a survey of the progress of spring plowing in Montgomery county, Ohio, from a flying machine. A fairly good conception of the progress of spring work was obtained, as well as the proportion of the total acreage that was under cultivation.

The labor and annoyance of threshing soy beans may be saved by feeding the soy-bean hay to hogs in the winter, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The beans supply the protein and save the purchase of tankage and middlings. The oil in the beans, together with the leaves of the plants which the hogs eat, keeps them in good condition. Soy-bean hay and corn make an ideal winter feed.
